Definition: Adult day health services include day programs for frail seniors and other adults who need supervision and health services during the daytime. Adult Day Health programs offer nursing care, therapies, personal care assistance, social and recreational activities, meals, and other services in a community group setting. Adult Day Health programs are for adults who return to their homes and care givers at the end of the day.

An adult day health program shall mean a comprehensive, nonresidential program designed to address the biological, psychological, and social needs of adults through individual plans of health that incorporate, as needed, a variety of health, social and related support services in a protective setting.
